DAY-1[18/8/2025]

Today, I explored the StatsBomb dataset, which is centered around football analytics. The dataset contains detailed player information, including attributes such as player name, nickname, player ID, team, rank, gender, and country. It offers a comprehensive foundation for conducting player profiling, performance evaluation, and comparative analysis across teams and individuals.